

The University of Kansas Center for Research on Learning presents

Instructional Coaching Institute

Workshops that Make an Impact

March 19-20, 2012

Oread Hotel

1200 Oread Avenue, Lawrence, Kansas

Session begins at 8:30 a.m. Monday and adjourns by 4 p.m. Tuesday.

This institute provides an opportunity for staff developers to learn and apply the strategies described in Jim Knight's Unmistakable Impact: A Partnership Approach to Dramatically Improving Instruction. Participants are asked to bring (a) the resources they need to create an important presentation and (b) a laptop computer loaded with presentation software (either Keynote or PowerPoint). During the session, participants will learn best practices for (a) designing slides and presentations, (b) vocal delivery, (c) structuring learning experiences, (d) writing and telling stories, (e) facilitating, and (f) keeping audience energy high. To deepen their knowledge, participants will have an opportunity to apply all new learning as they create or recreate an actual presentation they plan to give. Do not make non-refundable travel arrangements until your place is confirmed.

Cost: $300 (U.S.) Covers instruction and materials (does not include meals, transportation, or housing). Add $25 late fee for registrations postmarked after February 19, 2012. Refund Policy: You must notify KUCRL in writing by February 19 to receive a refund of your registration fee minus a $25 cancellation fee. We will be unable to issue any refunds for cancellations received after February 19. There is no cancellation fee for registrations transferred to another session.
